INTERIOR DESIGN

THE PROGRAM SUCCESSFULLY COMPLETED
THE AUN-QA PROGRAM ASSESSMENT.

A specialized training program in design thinking for the interior design of residential and public buildings is offered. Students will be fully equipped with modern design methods, from the idea analysis phase to developing technical drawings. This enhances their ability to express design ideas through sketches and rendering. They will clearly understand the relationship between their major and architecture, as well as other art forms, from traditional to contemporary. They will also be equipped with group design skills and the ability to practice independently. After graduation, students will have the foundational knowledge necessary to continue their studies at higher training institutions at home or abroad.

Education program:

Training time: 04 years

Language: Vietnamese

(There are at least 6 courses in English)

Job Opportunities

After graduation, students can take on positions in design, construction, project management, and business in the field of interior design. They can participate in consulting on colors, materials, and decorations for cultural, social, commercial, and service events. They can also consult on lighting and landscape for interior and exterior decoration projects. In addition, students have the ability to participate in consulting and teaching specialized interior design programs.
